Weaving a history of central Niigata Prefecture from the Muromachi Period

In early times forging began in Tsubame City, Niigata Prefecture, which has grown to the largest producer of housewares in Japan.

Standing in the place where this tool-making started, “Enzo” was established with thanks to our predecessors and pride in our locality.

Summer of 2021
Reviving

We “Enzo” have always striven single-mindedly to deliver products made in Tsubame-Sanjo, Niigata.
That is our mission.

We thank customers for their long support and hope it will continue for a long time.

Handy pots that avoid boiling over with a deep rim

A deep rim was adopted to make it even harder to boil over. Useful for cooking such as stewing and reboiling. No need to add water. Ingredients are cooked quickly. Finish cooking faster and more deliciously than ever.

Design of the rim makes it hard to boil over

「 Chitose 」

Scratches and marks on cooking tools are memories of their everyday use.

The first feeling of being grasped by the gentle hand of its owner, the sound of cutting food, and the sweet smell of cooked rice filling the kitchen in the morning. All of these are remembered by the tools, which change their color and form as they grow closer to their owner.

When the grip of their owner's gentle hand becomes somewhat sturdy, surely the tools will also be wonderful things sliding into that grip.

With all our heart, we have made such robust tools that users can use them affectionately for many years, like the ones passed down from grandmother to mother and used with care.

千歳
chitose

Cookers that make delicious memories.

Made in Japan

Simple tools for everyday use.

Stainless-steel pots with tender handles and lid knobs of white wood carefully satin-finished one by one by craftsmen in Tsubame City, Niigata Prefecture.

We stick to the handy design of even, smooth, simple forms.

In addition, the matte body makes scratches inconspicuous.

Three sizes are provided to be used according to the number of people being served and the food, such as miso soup, stew, and curry. The pots can be used on both gas cooker, of course, and IH cooking heater.

We are sticklers for everyday “boiling”.

Kettles have always been popular tools in daily life. They are used many times every day, such as for coffee in the morning and tea in a break from housekeeping. The body boils water quickly, the spout doesn't drip water, and the wooden handle and knob are easy to grasp for a hand... Boiling water is a simple purpose, so we have finished the products carefully with particular attention to the details. Ease of use is part of it, of course, but a nostalgic design sure to warm your heart is part of their charm.

Use the same tool for a long time.

Using an iron pan for a long time gives it a good affinity with oil and the pan gets to be nonstick. Taking care of it well allows you to use it for many years, and it will become indispensable. Our pan is particularly suitable for frying and grilling because it has good affinity with oil and doesn't repel it. In addition, the body is designed to be a little deep to keep food from spilling out.

The charm of copper tools that has been passed down.

The greatest feature of copper is heat-conductivity. Its good heat-conductivity makes copper the most suitable material for pots and fry pans.

Copper tools heat up evenly, they cook ingredients soft to their center, and they make food mellow at the end.

Copper products have charming amber color with a little darkness, and will serve you a long time with a little care.

Feel the allure of them, changing in appearance the more you use them as only copper does.

“Grating” makes food more delicious.

Each tooth of the graters here is cut individually. The process of cutting teeth involves manually digging them one by one from a thick metal plate with a cold chisel, making rows of blades. The blades of the products are sharp and robust, and have excellent usability and durability.

The fine teeth cut the fiber of materials into small pieces. That makes the flavor of the materials stand out.

■ Easy to grate with little force

The container has a slope for easy grating. The plate is 1.0 mm thick, which permits a simple design without a curl for reinforcement. It holds no leeks and is sanitary.

■ As a container

The attached silicone cover can be used as a stopper laid under the container while grating.

In addition, it also becomes a lid to protect grated materials and to store the tool.

Tumblers finished by craftsmen in small factories who are scrupulous about their polishing techniques.

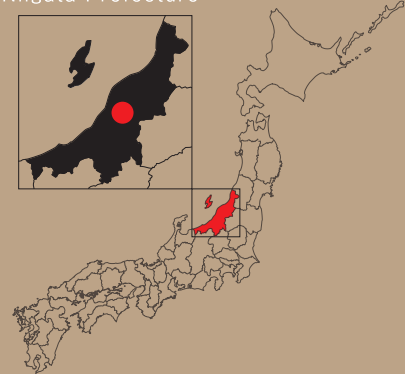

Made in Japan
Tsubame City, Niigata Prefecture

Craftsmanship in Tsubame City, Niigata Prefecture, where small factories dot the area

Tsubame City is located near the center of the Echigo plains. It has been a farming region from ancient times and also developed a distinctive industry as an area for metal processing. It began to make Japanese nails in the early Edo Period, and produced files, copper wares beaten from plates, and tobacco pipes with metal tipped stem successively with the flow of time. At present, it is one of the main production areas for metal housewares. And it is also one of the biggest industrial areas in the prefecture. A unique feature of Tsubame City's production style is that many products undergo each process at a different specialist before completion. Many small factories dot the area, each of which has a family in its core and takes charge of its specialized part of the process. "Tsubame Kenma Factory" consists of such craftsmen in these small factories in Tsubame City.

Stainless straws, individually polished by craftsmen in small factories.

The issue of plastic waste affecting the environment has been drawing attention to reusable straws. Tsubame City, a town of metal processing, also provides stainless straws polished individually with concern for environmental issues.

Mirror finishing rich in nuance

The surfaces, individually polished in earnest by craftsmen, shine with deep flavor different from that of a mirror. Enjoy their art, which is simple but cannot be disguised.

Even the way of foaming shows the art

The inside surface is hairline-finished to an exquisite extent so that foam on a poured beer become even creamier. The secret to delicious beer is the way of foam that covers it.

The feeling of the material makes the coldness clear

Once cooled, stainless steel doesn't get lukewarm easily, making it a suitable material for enjoying cold drinks. In addition, the cool texture lets you savor the coldness with your eyes as well.

We paid attention to the feel against the lips.

The way it feels drinking affects the physical experience of deliciousness. We gave the feeling against the lips the most consideration especially because of the stainless steel, and polished the rim carefully to deliver a smooth touch.

Snuggling quietly, and living together.
We aim to make such tools.

Okatte = Kitchen

Unassuming but important tools in okatte.

We hope our products will be used katte-ni (freely) without special care.

You hope to have beautiful hands like mother and grandmother.

We hope to link the hands of craftsmen who make tools to the hands of cooks who make food.

With all these hopes, we provide tools that were diligently made by craftsmen specializing in metal processing in Tsubame City and Sanjo City, Niigata Prefecture, while thinking about those who would use them.

Strainer and bowl

To strain water. A strainer is a tool for very simple work.

That is why we seldom realize its true quality. To leave as little water as possible, but not to let even a small ingredients spill out. It is easier to wash an even surface. We considered such points when adopting a mesh size and weaving design for the net.

A bowl is a strainer's best friend, and it is almost always convenient to have both of them together.

Not to mention its usefulness while preparing, but we designed it to be good-looking even on the table to get even more use out of it.

Coating craftsmen worked in earnest to create this beautiful surface finish, without sacrificing any of the bowl's functionality, of course.

Well-matched even on the table

With the outside surface coated, it looks good on the table just as it is.

With graduations

Graduated on the inside surface of the bowl.

※The photo shows graduations of 18 cm bowl.

Stackable

It is stackable and fits well.

“Detachable handle type” brings out the whole benefit of iron.
Only iron can bring out this good taste!

With blue tempered steel fiber line processed, easier to handle than wrought iron with visible slag

What is blue tempered steel? What is fiber line processing?

It is high grade steel sheet developed to make tempered products such as fry pans. Its surface tempered, it is strong against rust, highly durable, and easier to take care of than general iron material.

It is a special process that makes fibrous unevenness stand out on the surface of metal material. The uneven surface touches ingredients at random points, and has good affinity with oil. Compared to popular fry pans with a flat bottom, it hardly lets ingredients be burned or stick to itself.

Cooking

Because the handle is detachable,

It can be used in an oven and on a grill for fish.

Hot and delicious food can be served directly to the table.

It can be stored in a small compact space.

The handle is detached with one touch.

Iron fry pans made of selected high grade steel sheet while having a professional style

The more the iron fry pan is used, the more affinity with oil it gets. That is why using it many times every day is welcome, for example for steak and meuniere, as a cooking ware.

The handle is of the same material as the body, just like professionals use.

※ Do not put heavy ware such as pottery into the pan.

Stacked into one, stored compactly

The attached strainer is stackable for storing. The kitchen will be in order instead of cluttered even when placing the pan under the sink or around the gas stove. It supports making a space for everyone to use with ease.

A short handle for small spaces

The handle, designed to be shorter than usual, makes it easy to wash in the sink. Even on the table, it hardly disturbs eating. Your choice of eating places will be broadened, for example, on the veranda on a sunny day.

Spouts hard to drip sauce

The pan has spouts that resist dripping sauce on both sides of it. It helps not stain the kitchen when serving or pouring into another container. In addition, it can be used with either hand.
